

Centennial
By Helen (Robb) Garrett

The 1957 Centennial organization left some goals to be accomplished in the years ahead and formed "The Kinmundy Community Boosters." They met in open forum once a month to discuss problems and plan for the future. The group voted that any money left over from the Centennial would be used as a beginning fund for a Community Center. At their final meeting and after all bills were paid, there was over $2000 left to apply on a Community Center. The lot was purchased, and planning started. Everyone remembers Mr. Fred Kliess as working so hard in getting cash donations for the roof and framework among many others.

Another endeavor the Boosters undertook was securing a medical clinic for a new doctor. There was a need for one everyone agreed. Kinmundy was singled out for a community worthy of help. A clinic board was formed with Kinmundy Woman's Club and other important organizations in town. Each would have one representative on the Clinic Board.
